In some places the plane of the Locos were discovered deface the day of election, in others they were so carefully concealed as to prevent detection. In Berks and some of the other counties, not only the votes of persons who had no right to vote, were taken, but hundreds of persons from the adjoining counties went into Berks on the day previous to the election, and at other times, voted there early and returned to their respective counties and voted again on the same day. This fact, says the Pennsylvania Telegraph, can be established by the area ample testumony. The relegraph adds, that in Herks county, where there are under 2000 taxable mishitants, including le sles. Mr. Unge ware about 10,400 untes polled on Tuesday last! about 2000 more than see polled in 1835, when Muhlenberg, Wull and Ritte rall can, and the greatest eners were inade by all parties. This fact cannot leave a doubt in the mind of any one that there were more than one thungand illegal votes given to David R. ..... NO, 11.... I have not yet told you that I came hither, and shall go hence, by the aid of one of those modern inventions and filinfern industers called Rail Roads and Steam Engines. In two directions, almost to the water's edge, these Iron Horses, fed upon fire and water, breathing out threaten ings of accident and threatened slaughter, and moving almost with the velocity of the whiel. wind, are seen and heard moving to and fro. A-Rail Road brought me here from Lockport, some twenty or thirty miles in the east, and a Rathmany miles west. Also, that it is so, I have said while here, gozing upon, enjoying and admiring the wonder working power of the Great Architect of the Universe. - A Rail Road along the banks and almost to the water a edge of the Ningeria! A saw mill within a stone a throw of the Falls! A Paper mill upon the falland, the hather distinct of attraction!
